Joining MBG: A Commitment on Thursdays

We tend to do business with people we know. The Mobile Business Group (MBG) is an organization that helps you know the right people and helps the right people know you. Relationships develop when we spend time with and talk with others. You will get out of the MBG what you put into it. The MBG is a forum in which members develop relationships, build synergies, and overlap circles of influence. Business growth follows with referrals and reciprocal business. Members of the MBG agree to make a weekly business appointment every Thursday to lunch with other MBG members at the Bienville Club. One remains a member-in-good-standing by regular and consistent attendance. The most successful members seldom miss Thursday luncheons.
